

<https://eportfolio.vt.edu>

Marc R. Zaldivar, Director

marcz@vt.edu

Teggin M. Summers, Associate Director

teggin@vt.edu

Choosing an eP Platform	WordPress	Google Sites	Weebly	Scholar
User friendly	Medium-level of difficulty	Low-to-medium level of difficulty	Easy	Medium-level of difficulty
Collaborative	Yes	Yes	Yes	Low
Multimedia	Yes – easy to embed from YouTube, etc.; less easy to include your own multimedia files	Yes -- easy to embed from YouTube, etc.; less easy to include your own multimedia files	Yes – easy to embed from YouTube. You have to have the Pro account to upload your own video	Medium-level of difficulty embedding outside platforms; however, free assistance provided for uploading and embedding your own files
Blog	Yes	Google has a separate blog platform called Blogger. It is possible to integrate a Blogger blog into a Google Site, but it would require at least a medium-level of technical difficulty/ability	Yes	No
Design Options	Medium-to-High level – lots of templates but can be limiting in layout	Low-to-Medium level	High level	Low-to-Medium level

Helpful Links

- <https://eportfolio.vt.edu>
- <http://www.is.vt.edu/>
- <http://electronicportfolios.org>
- <https://sites.google.com/site/eportfolioapps/>

We welcome feedback! Please email teggin@vt.edu.

Other eP/website platforms:

- www.carbonmade.com | www.wix.com | <https://pathbrite.com>

Emerging ePortfolio-related Technologies

- <http://creativecommons.org/>
- <http://vimeo.com/>
- <http://www.apple.com/ilife/imovie/>
- <http://www.slideshare.net/>
- <http://prezi.com/>
- <http://www.picmonkey.com/>
- <http://instagram.com/>
- <https://delicious.com/>
- <http://audacity.sourceforge.net/>
- <http://picasa.google.com/>